

Accommodation

TU Dublin books space with a number of campus-style accommodation providers who give a discount to our students. They try to place students of similar courses and campuses together. Host family accommodation is also very popular with our international students.

You only pay for the weeks you are there and it will give you a chance to find your feet in a new city. For more information check out our Student Pad accommodation website at tudublinstudentpad.ie/accommodation which is a database of accommodation available for our students.

About TU Dublin

Technological University Dublin, known as TU Dublin, is Ireland's first Technological University, offering a wide range of internationally recognised programmes from foundation level to PhD.

TU Dublin is the University where the arts; business; sciences; engineering; and technology converge and our 28,500 students and researchers come from all over Ireland and from all parts of the globe.

TU Dublin offers an inclusive and open learning experience that is practice-based and research-informed, connecting students, employers, researchers and the wider academic community to facilitate economic transformation and sustainable growth. In a rapidly changing knowledge environment, we prepare our students to build meaningful careers throughout their lives.

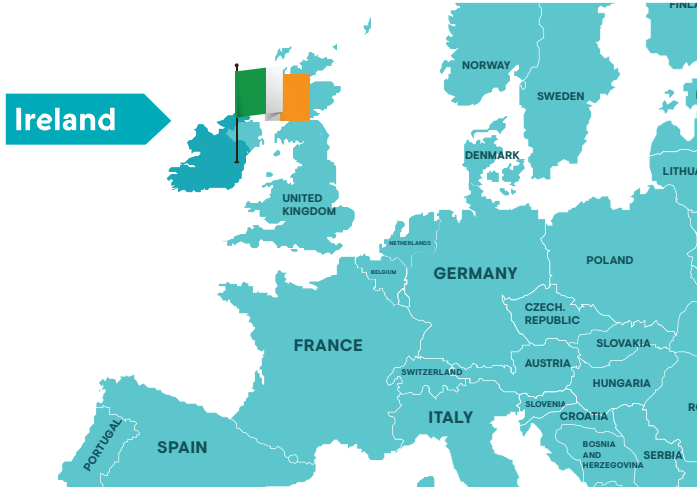

The University has three campuses spanning the three largest areas of population growth in the region – Blanchardstown, Tallaght and Dublin City where our new state of the art Grangegorman campus on a 73 acre site in the heart of the city is being developed as a location that encourages and supports knowledge advancement, sustainable development and inclusive education.

Rankings

TU Dublin was established on 01 January 2019 and has been ranked in the Top 250 Young Universities Worldwide by Times Higher Education.

Ireland

Why Ireland?

Ireland is a small island nation located on the western-most tip of Europe and is regularly voted as a one of the most friendly and safest countries in the world. While Ireland has its own language and distinct cultural identity, English is the universally spoken language and is one of the reasons large multinationals such as Google, Facebook, LinkedIn, Twitter, Apple, Intel, IBM and Pfizer, base their European operations here.

Ireland is well known for its high-quality education which is internationally recognised. We have one of the best education systems in the world and a renowned reputation for academic quality.

Dublin

Dublin is the capital of Ireland and home to our three campuses. With 120,000 students, Dublin is a vibrant and student friendly city, full of cultural attractions and social activities. The city is serviced by international carriers from all parts of the world.
